This is the Biggest Week Yet in the World of Golf Players.

THIS is the biggest week yet in the golf world. Not only will many championship tournaments be decided in this country, but across the seas Harold H. Hilton will defend the British amateur golf title against Fredrick Herreshoff of this country and others. The New Jersey tournament will take place at Atlantic City Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Jerome D. Travers will be called upon to defend his title against Oswald Kirby, runner-up last year, and many other cracks. The women's Eastern championship will be held at the Philadelphia Cricket Club from Wednesday to Saturday.

Dan McKelrick, the crafty little manager of horses now on the way home with his three men, Willie Lewis, Joe Jannetta and Jack Deering, has sent a telegram to his partner, Harry Morgan, declaring that there was $20,000 in the house when Lewis fought Carpenter, and that their end was $2,000. He declared that their reason for leaving the country so soon was because Lewis did as well against the French champion that all the other men of the night were afraid to give him a match. McKelrick is due to sail for his foot on American soil on Saturday.

Eugene Le Roy Mercer, the track and football star of the University of Pennsylvania, has been unanimously elected captain of the Red and Blue track team for next year. The selection of Mercer for the place of track captain confers an honor on him which has not been accorded a Red and Blue

NEWS ODDITIES

Not One Adult in Congregation of 1,000 Could Sing "America."

Only twenty-four persons, all girls and boys, knew the words of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," when a congregation of 1,000 was called on by the Rev. J. B. Ely of Philadelphia to sing the song at the opening exercises of the Lemon Hill Association, non-sectarian.

He asked American-born members to stand up, and more than 75 per cent. arose—but they didn't know the words of the song.

Secretary MacVeagh Eats on Quick Lunch Stool While Wife's Away. Secretary of the Treasury Franklin MacVeagh, one of the wealthiest men in the country and owner of Washington's million-dollar house, takes his mid-day meal in a quick lunch place, eating on a stool at a long counter.

His wife is in Europe and he believes in the simple life.

Police, After Three-Mile Chase, Find "Many Dead" in Cemetery. "Send policemen in a hurry. Many persons dead at No. 484 Southport avenue," was the message telephoned in to the Sheffield avenue police station in Chicago.

The reserves were sent in the wagon on the three-mile run, only to find that the number was part of St. Boniface Cemetery, and that the "dead persons" had been dead a long time. They are after the joker.

Feast After Forty-six-Day Fast Lands Man in Hospital. To reduce his weight, John Watson, thirty, of Atlantic City, fasted for forty-six days in Philadelphia on the advice of his physician. When he got down from 145 to 114 pounds he broke his fast with a real meal. It made him sick and he had to be taken to the Philadelphia Hospital, where he still is.

Hobbies Instead of Leg Irons to Check Runaway Boys. The Ferris Industrial School, where bad boys of Wilmington, Del., are sent to be reformed, has adopted the hobby skirt for the youngsters and say it has come to stay.

The officials say the dresses are not to wound the pride of the boys, but to act as a deterrent on those with a penchant for running away.

Murderer Awaiting Death Gets Two Medals of Honor From Congress.

Louis Wechter, under sentence of death at Canyon City, Col., for killing a man in a Denver restaurant, has received two medals of honor voted to him by Congress.

He had served a long time in the navy and won the medals through bravery, the words on them being "Fidelity, Obedience, Zeal."

After Going Through Two Wars and Reaching 101, Killed by Fall. John Cool, 101 years old, was killed in the Soldiers' Home at Raleigh, N. C., by falling down the stairs.

He served through the Mexican and Civil Wars and was the oldest Confederate soldier in North Carolina.

They say, but we've proved otherwise.

We wanted a little different stage-effect to give the right tone to our Annual White Shoe Display, so We have converted our Four Sixth Avenue Windows into a perfect reproduction of the Boardwalk at Atlantic City. We ask, during the coming week, that you at least "take a look."

MITCHELL The Tailor

1431 BROADWAY, CORNER 40TH STREET

My ONLY New York City Store.

Open Evenings Until 9 P. M.; Saturday 10.

THERE never was a time in any city in which I ever opened a store that my hardest fight wasn't to get the workingman—the workingman, mind you, the man above all men whom I ought to sell, the man above all men who needs me and my cut price institution. I could always sell the people who have lots of coin—the lawyers, the business men, the doctors, the merchants and the storekeepers. It is a fact, not generally known and not so easy to believe, but it is a fact, nevertheless, that these are the customers who have made my successes in Boston, Worcester, Providence, Lowell, Springfield, Lawrence, Manchester, Hartford and New Bedford. When prosperity illumines the map of the country, these men come to me; when the dark clouds of depression frown upon the land, these men still come to me.

MR. WORKINGMAN, is it because you have a prejudice against custom clothing that you don't come to me in greater numbers?

MR. WORKINGMAN, is it because you think you can buy clothing for less than I charge that you don't come to me in greater numbers?

MR. WORKINGMAN, is it because you don't think I have the goods that you don't come to me in greater numbers?

Will You Do Me a Favor?

Will You Do Yourself A Favor?

Will you wear into my store the highest priced suit you own?—the best piece of goods you can find in your closet—wear it in, please, bring your wife, your mother, or your daughter with you and make my help show you the equal of your favorite at MITCHELL'S CUT RATE PRICES.
